

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Inventec Performance Chemicals USA LLC announces Powell Industries as new distributor Expanding reach and reducing delivery speed, Inventec USA adds best-in-class EMS distributor

DEEP RIVER, CT – Oct 8th, 2019 -- Inventec Performance Chemicals USA LLC, producer of Inventec solder pastes, coatings, cleaning chemistries and Amtech-branded solder products, is growing reach and reducing delivery speed through a new strategic distribution partner, Powell Industries. Powell industries has been a value-added distributor to electronic manufacturing services (EMS) companies for more than 20 years, and has seven distribution offices covering the western United States.

David Reitz, CEO of Inventec Performance Chemicals USA LLC, commented, “At Inventec, we are problem-solvers at heart – and we consistently expect more from ourselves. We are thrilled to announce that Powell Industries is now part of the Inventec global distribution network, helping us provide faster service to an expanded network of customers. Powell Industries has the experience, infrastructure and team that make them best-in-class. But what I think sets them apart, and makes them a great fit for Inventec, is their values: they are deeply customer-minded, and focused on helping them save time and money.”

Mike Powell added, “We are delighted to have the ability to offer Inventec and Amtech products. Not only are the products market leaders, which gives us the ability to add value to our customers today, but through this partnership we are investing in the future, as Inventec continues to bring innovative new products and services to market.”

Photo: Mike Powell (Powell Industries) & David Reitz (Inventec)

Inventec and Powell Industries will be participating at events this fall with customers, and also will be at APEX together in San Diego in February 2020.

About Inventec Performance Chemicals USA LLC

For over 40 years, Inventec has been serving industrial markets with sustainable products and processes that reduce the total cost of ownership, delivering:

- Innovative solutions that feature uncompromising performance
- Environmental and health protection by substituting safer products for hazardous substances ahead of regulatory standards, and by developing intelligent risk management solutions for hazardous substances.
- Proximity of experts in more than 20 countries who provide expert consultation, resulting in optimized solutions that serve the total needs of our customers.

Inventec has 10 subsidiaries throughout Europe, Asia, USA and Mexico, including 7 production sites that are all ISO 9001 or ISO 14001 and equipped with state-of-the-art laboratories. In 2014, Inventec expanded their presence across North America by adding AMTECH solder pastes, solder powders, and process support products, providing a highly complementary addition to the full line of INVENTEC products for the electronic assembly marketplace.

Inventec Performance Chemicals USA LLC

<http://www.inventecusa.com/>

(860) 526-8300